International Society for Professional Identity in Nursing

e-News November 2020

Welcome to the November edition of the Professional Identity in Nursing e-News! We would just like to take a moment to thank everyone who participated in the Professional Identity in Nursing Virtual Forum in September. Over fifty nursing and health care professionals from the US and abroad attended. We appreciate you making the event a success!

Attention Nurse Educators: Upcoming Webinar on Nursing Students and Professional Identity

We are pleased to share that ISPIN has partnered with Sigma to create a repository for professional identity in nursing on their website. This repository includes a series of webinars on the subject of professional identity that are free to download and do not require a Sigma log-in.

Nov. 17, 2020 - Nursing Students and Their Professional Identity in Nursing Formation: How Can We Foster It?

This session explores the critical need to form professional identity in nursing. Evidence will be presented on how nurse educators can foster professional identity in nursing students at the undergraduate and graduate levels.

Other webinars now available:

Professional Identity in Nursing: Background and Introduction

Professional Identity in Nursing is a “sense of oneself, and in relationship with others, that is influenced by characteristics, norms, and values of the nursing discipline, resulting in an individual thinking, acting, and feeling like a nurse.” This session will discuss the development an action plan for naming and shaping professional identity formation in nursing practice, education and policy that includes competencies, essential elements, and exemplars to foster professional identity formation in nursing based on the best available evidence.

Professional Identity in Nursing: Conceptual model, development of new knowledge

This session will explore the development of a conceptual model for professional identity development and how this conceptual model contributes to the development of knowledge and research priorities for professional identity.

Work Groups - Get involved!

Propelling the Science

Purpose: The Propelling the Science Work Group facilitates, discusses, and documents the evolving science of Professional Identity in Nursing.

This committee is co-chaired by Rhoda Owens, PhD, RN, and Lynne M. Kuhl, MSN, RN. We invite curiosity and welcome input and questions from those who desire to discover more about the science of Professional Identity in Nursing.

Please email lmkuhl@viterbo.edu and rhoda.owens@und.edu to join the group.

Disseminating Widely

Purpose: The Disseminating Widely Work Group ensures that the important work of the Professional Identity in Nursing initiative is shared as effectively as possible.

If you are interested in participating in this work group, please contact KaryAnne Weybrew (kweybrew@americancareercollege.edu) or Terri Hinkley (terri.hinkley@amsn.org).

Conceptual Model

Purpose: The Conceptual Model Work Group will establish the conceptual model for Professional Identity in Nursing.

If you are interested in being part of this work, please contact Marie-Joseph@uiowa.edu.
